

Wicked Local Natick

with news from the Natick Bulletin & Tab and MetroWest Daily News

Fri Oct 24, 2008, 04:17 PM EDT

Letters to the Editor

NATICK -

Orozco, a voice the district needs

To the editor:

As Election Day approaches on Tuesday, Nov. 4, the voters of the Norfolk, Bristol and Middlesex district have a very important decision to make when they choose their next state senator. In this race, Sara Orozco is the clear choice. Sara Orozco is smart, compassionate and hardworking and she will use those traits to fight for the middle class families struggling with the high costs of good health care, education and housing.

Sara Orozco will bring her problem-solving skills to Beacon Hill to work for the people of our district. She has 20 years of experience in the health care field that she will put to work for us to fight for high quality, affordable health care. As a mother of two children attending public school in the district, Sara also will have a strong commitment to our community's education.

Sara Orozco is the only candidate in the race that supports the Life Science Act to stimulate investment in the fastest growing sector of our economy. Sara will continue to work to support local businesses and create good jobs through public private partnerships.

I'm supporting Sara Orozco because she is the only candidate who will put the concerns of local families first and provide the voice that our district needs.

Wade Blackman

Natick