Off and running!

Back-to-back campaign kickoff events a smashing success

On June 28th, dozens of people joined Sara at back-to-back kickoff events in Needham and Attleboro to officially launch her campaign. Sara said, "People I meet often feel like there is a great divide between the northern and southern parts of the district. I wanted to demonstrate my intention of serving all of the people of the district equally by holding kickoff events in the north and south."

State Representative Lida Harkins, (D-Needham) revs up the crowd as only the Majority Whip could, by publicly endorsing Sara at her Needham kickoff.

Campaign opens Needham HQ and field office in Millis

Campaign volunteers and staff now have locations in both the north and south that will serve as the nerve center for phone-banking, mailings, meetings and day-to-day field operations.

She's walking, knocking, talking and, er, listening

Okay, so it doesn't rhyme, but Sara's door-to-door visits to households across the district have given her an even deeper appreciation for the people she hopes to represent.

Whether listening to the concerns of countless senior citizens she meets who are terribly worried that they may no longer be able to afford their homes; or sharing the joy of a wonderful family that had days earlier earned their American citizenship and not yet registered to vote; Sara has been pounding the pavement to meet people face-to-face in their homes to tell them why she's running and to ask for their support. If she drops by your house, please let her in and take a few moments to tell her what you would like to see from your next state senator. (And, yes, she made sure that blank Voter Registration forms were hand-delivered the next day to the district's newest citizens!)

Labor donated

The Norfolk, Bristol & Middlesex district includes Millis, Needham, Norfolk, Plainville, Wrentham, North Attleborough, Sherborn, Wayland and parts of Franklin, Wellesley, Attleboro, and Natick.

It's a Fact: Running for office takes money

-Pure and simple. Another fact is that successful campaigns are built - and won - on generous donations from individuals just like you.

Please don't worry if you don't have much to give. Lots of small donations add up!!

A number of people who've known Sara for years and many others who are new acquaintances have been hosting fundraisers in her honor, giving folks a chance to meet her in person and helping to raise money and awareness. Events have taken place both in and out of the district with many more on deck.

If you'd like to host a fundraiser or send an appeal on Sara's behalf to your friends, please contact Campaign Manager, Jenna Wilson, and she'll help set you up! jenna@saraorozco.com

Policy – In her own words

Massachusetts is one of the few states where statistics reveal a population in decline and it's hurting our economic development. We may educate and train the world's best and the brightest - but we're not doing enough to keep them here contributing to our communities and our economy. Additionally, we must find incentives for companies to move to Massachusetts; companies who will invest in our greatest resource, our people. It is a simple math formula, the better jobs, wages and quality of life people have in Massachusetts, the more revenue Massachusetts will have!

The recently passed life sciences bill is fantastic in its scope to create more jobs and make Massachusetts a leader in the life sciences field. However, I also believe that the companies that come here must honor their end of the tax incentives we give them. We need to hold them accountable for the number of jobs they say they will create! Meet the Team – Becky Kahn

Becky is a rising junior at Colgate University and a native of Wellesley. At school she is a member of the women's rugby team as well as various community service groups on campus. Already this summer she has ventured off to Tanzania to climb Mt. Kilimanjaro and to Guatemala on a medical mission on top of working hard for Sara's campaign. She is extremely excited to be working on this campaign as an intern through Planned Parenthood League of Massachusetts and to get the chance to be involved in politics very relevant to her hometown.
